David Paglin, Montgomery Co.
- Mr. Paglin will provide an overview of the formation of AWCAC and their early priorities. He will also brief the Committee on his plan for a "history of the restoration" project—consisting of oral/video histories of restoration pioneering figures (beginning in the 1980s)—and possibly ultimately resulting in both video and written products that can be widely shared with schools and citizens.
- The project's purpose is to substantially heighten public understanding of the duration, scope and accomplishments of the restoration itself, so that this deeper appreciation of the immense challenge could serve as a strong inducement to a wider and greater sense of pride and ownership outside the restoration community.

8:30 P.M. 5. TRAINING YOUR WATERSHED MEMBERS: WATERSHED STEWARDS ACADEMY
Matt Gallagher, Anacostia Watershed Society

Matt Gallagher, Manager of Community-Based Restoration at the Anacostia Watershed Society will give a brief presentation on the Watershed Stewards Academy (WSA) program. The WSA is an 8-session classroom and field-based course that provides participants with the tools and resources to serve as a point person in their community on watershed issues and solutions. Every participant must develop and implement an individual or small group Capstone project, which could be a great opportunity for local watershed groups to engage new members and accomplish common goals.
